

Brian Robinson

APT Past President

Brian Scott Robinson, MHP

Brian Scott Robinson works in the office of the General Services Officer, U.S. Department of State, Pretoria, South Africa. He received a B.A. in History from Emory University and Master of Historic Preservation from the University of Georgia. He has extensive experience relating to heritage conservation and maintenance both in the U.S. and abroad. He has been an instructor in the historic preservation programs at the Savannah College of Art and Design, the University of Florida and is currently a visiting lecturer in the Architecture program at the University of Pretoria. Brian has comprehensive experience in preservation contracting, historic site management, heritage disaster preparation and recovery, and historic building material technology. His current research is focused on research in heritage maintenance in the developing world and the expansion of heritage conservation as a constructive tool in promoting U.S. foreign policy. Brian also serves on the board of the Preservation Trades Network.

Specialty Areas: Historic Building Maintenance
 Traditional Lime Manufacture
 Heritage Disaster Planning
 "Hands On" Preservation Education

APT Role: Brian was APT President from 2007-2009 and is now serving as Past President. Brian was APT Vice President from 2005-2007. He was a co-founder and first President of the APT Southeast Region chapter. In addition, he served as a co-chair of the APT Chapters Committee and as the Local Conference Committee Chair for APT 2006 in Atlanta, GA.