

The Rocky Mountain Chapter of the Association for Preservation Technology

Membership Brochure

Wyoming State Capitol

2011 Membership Information

Why you should join Rocky Mountain APT:

- Active network of preservation practitioners
- Shared knowledge base
- Networking opportunities
- Hands on seminars
- A link to an international preservation association
- Information about upcoming workshops
- Regional group to address regional issues
- Local student scholarship opportunities

Wood Window Restoration Workshop

Annual Meeting 2010, Civic Center Park, Denver

Past activities:

- Seminar on rising damp at the Richard's Hart Estate
- Tour of MacGregor and McGraw Ranches in and near Rocky Mountain National Park
- A behind the scenes tour of the Wyoming State Capitol
- A quarry tour of native sandstone near Manitou Springs
- A tour of the recently completed work at Chautauqua in Boulder.
- Hands on demonstration of terra cotta repair and replacement
- Hands on wood window rehabilitation workshop
- Annual meetings combined with tours of current preservation projects

From mining sites to rural farmsteads to the urban environment, our region has a diversity of historic properties and a range of climatic conditions, all of which we encounter in our preservation work. A network of regional practitioners can facilitate sharing the best techniques for our unique environment.

Rocky Mountain Chapter APT Dues

Payable by check only and made payable to: Rocky Mountain Chapter APT.

Annual: $25

Student: $10 (please send copy of current student id)

Please note that as an organization of limited means, we are currently only able to receive payments by mail. Most communications will be via email. Dues are calculated by calendar year January to December.

Please send this form to:
Rocky Mountain Chapter APT
PO Box 44146, Denver, CO 80201

Name: _____

Occupation: _____

Company: _____

State: _____

Email: _____

Please list your areas of interest within preservation: _____

Are you interested in being an RMC/APT board member? Yes No

Are you a current APTI member? Yes No

Unless you indicate a preference otherwise, APTI may contact you via email regarding membership opportunities.

Rocky Mountain APT
PO Box 44146
Denver, CO 80201
Contact: Lisa Thompson
Email: lisa.thompson@state.co.us

The Rocky Mountain Chapter APT is affiliated with:

The Association for Preservation Technology International (APTI)
3085 Stevenson Drive, Suite 200
Springfield, IL 62703
Email: information@apti.org
Website: www.apti.org