Title: Preservation Architect

Treanor Architects seeks a motivated candidate, holding an accredited degree in Architecture, licensed or actively seeking licensure, with 5-7 years experience to join our Topeka, Kansas based preservation team. A degree in Historic Preservation is desired; candidates with college course work and/or professional experience in historic preservation are encouraged to apply. Architectural project design, rehabilitation project experience, heritage conservation planning, research and writing, materials conservation, Revit proficiency, verbal and graphic communication, self-management, and problem solving skills and experience are desired.

Treanor Preservation operates under the principle that good design transcends time. To that end, we are committed to providing our clients the services necessary to preserve their historic buildings, and/or construct compatible new ones. Our unique experience allows us to go beyond the rote application of standards, applying a deep understanding of a property’s significance to develop creative solutions that respect a sense of place. Our diverse portfolio includes both small and large small projects, from the preparation of an HSR for Turnhalle, a nineteenth-century German meeting hall, to the 12-year-long master planning and restoration of the Kansas Statehouse.

Treanor Architects offers competitive salaries commensurate with experience and a comprehensive benefits package, as well a fun and inviting atmosphere. We support and promote professional development and encourage our staff to not only participate, but to become leaders in professional organizations and our community.

If you have a creative and energetic nature, and are interested in Treanor Preservation, please forward your cover letter, resume and sample work to abellerive@treanorarchitects.com noting HP Architect in the subject line.
