

Technical Staff:

Walter B. Melvin Architects, LLC, an established mid-size firm in New York City specializing in the restoration of historic buildings, seeks applicants for a staff-level technical position. Qualified candidates should have a background in architecture or historic preservation, be proficient in AutoCAD and hand sketching, comfortable doing field work, and looking to expand their technical knowledge. Interest in architectural restoration, experience assessing historic buildings, and curiosity about building systems (past and present) a plus. Previous experience with an architecture firm preferred but not required. Friendly and educational office environment. Pay commensurate with experience. Applicants should email their resume to Martin Griggs, Principal, at mgriggs@wbmelvin.com.
