Privacy Policy

Commitment to Privacy

Your privacy is important to us, and the following policy explains how we treat any information gathered.

Information Collection

This notice applies to all information collected or submitted on APT's website. On some pages, you can order products, make requests, and register to receive materials or attend meetings. The types of personal information collected at these pages are:

- E-mail addresses.
- Accounts: on some parts of the site we ask you to create an account, and if you do, we ask for your name, e-mail address, postal address, and other personal information.
- Payment information, transferred securely. (but not retained on our servers)
- Information collected with cookies (see below).

When you visit our web site, we collect certain information about your visit that does not identify you personally. We can tell the type of computer, browser, and web service you are using. We also know the date and time you visit and the pages you visit. Collecting this information helps us design the site according to your needs.

Information Usage

We use the information you provide to complete your order as requested (for membership, publications or meeting registrations). We will send notices about association news, newsletters, publications, meetings, as well as other information we feel is valuable to you as member, but APT does not sell email addresses. APT provides an easy way to opt out of any unwanted emails or mailings.

Site Security

To prevent unauthorized access, maintain data accuracy, and ensure the correct use of information, we have put in place appropriate physical, electronic, and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect online.

Links to Other Sites

Our website has links to other web sites. When you go to another site, you are subject to the privacy and security policies of that site. APT cannot attest to the accuracy of information provided there. Linking to a web site does not constitute an endorsement by APT, or any of its directors, contractors or employees, of the sponsors of the site or the information presented on the site.

Privacy Notice Amendments

The policies covered under this Privacy Notice may be amended over time and those amendments may affect information obtained by the agency before the date of the change. All amendments to the Privacy Notice must be consistent with the requirements of the Federal Standards that protect the privacy of consumers.
