THE POSITION:

Help to preserve some of Pennsylvania's most important historic buildings. Join a diverse team that is responsible for maintaining over 400 buildings, and put your passion for architecture and historic preservation to use serving the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. This is professional level work in the planning, performance, and oversight of preservation construction projects for the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

DESCRIPTION OF WORK:

The Preservation Construction Specialist is responsible for planning and managing projects on some of Pennsylvania's most important historic structures at Commonwealth-owned historic sites and museums. This includes analyzing the condition and integrity of historic structures to determine the appropriate scope of work required to effect repairs. Project management duties include preparation of construction documents and overseeing the work performed by outside contractors. This position also includes planning, overseeing, and performing specific preservation craft trades such as carpentry, roofing, and masonry.
