

Mid-level Preservationist Architect:

Murphy Burnham & Buttrick is seeking a mid-level preservationist architect to join our vibrant design practice based in New York City. Our award-winning practice centers on a collaborative studio environment prioritizing innovative and sustainable design. We have a diverse body of work including institutional, cultural, residential and educational projects across a range of scales and are committed to creating architecture that elevates the human experience. Our firm has won numerous local and national awards on a wide range of historic and iconic buildings. The studio is structured to provide the rigor and technical expertise of a large firm with the personal approach and collaborative environment of a small firm. We have both breadth and depth of expertise in master planning, interior design, preservation, sustainable design and architectural design and emphasize a team structure that facilitates continued education and professional advancement.

Candidates should have strong knowledge of building materials and their deterioration patterns, conservation techniques, construction technology, experience with construction administration and be able to work in AutoCAD. Candidates should have two to ten years of work experience. We value team members with strong verbal and graphic communication skills with the enthusiasm and ideas to contribute to design dialogue and the determination to continue to interrogate and improve on design. Our collaborative environment relies on designers who work well with a team.

MBB is deeply committed to fostering a diverse and equitable workplace and profession. Please email a letter of interest, your resume and a pdf of work samples (maximum of ten pages) to Maricela Salas at msalas@mbbarch.com. Please include your name in the subject line and samples that highlight your design abilities including academic and professional work. Salary will be commensurate with experience. We offer a range of benefits, including health insurance, retirement plans, flexible spending account, and professional membership fees.
